

Sam Barham (Head) 	Staff	I studied at Leeds' Metropolitan University where I achieved a B.Ed (hons) in Physical Education. I taught PE for eleven years and for ten of those I was also Head of PE. When I moved to Devon I made a conscious decision to learn more about SEN and to gain experience in this field so stepped away from PE. I helped to set up and then teach in a KS3 Pupil Referral Unit in Barnstaple and then, got a job teaching part-time at Lampard in 2005 after the birth of my daughter. I worked at Lampard in various roles including developing and managing the Outreach service the school provided, transition, CPD, developing Tuesday Training alongside Claire Cowen-Brown, PE co-coordinator and began the Forest School provision within this subject, as well as being a tutor and delivering Entry Level Sport and Leisure Option. I finished my career as the Acting Deputy Headteacher which I left in July 2016. Last year I worked for Babcock LDP service within the Communications and Interactions Team for a year before coming to work as the Headteacher at Lampard.
Fiona West 	Staff	Before coming to Lampard in September 2013 I did my teacher training at Plymouth university where I had the opportunity to teach in a variety of schools. I have now been a teacher at Lampard for the last three years, teaching first in middle school and now in upper school. I have enjoyed my time at Lampard so much because it is such a special place to be with kind, enthusiastic and generous staff and students alike, that when the opportunity of staff governor arose I could not resist. I have been a governor since April 2016 and have enjoyed the role so far. I am looking forward to help build on the outstanding school we already have and do what I can to contribute taking it from strength to strength.
